"And Jesus said to them, 'Go into all the world and proclaim the good news to the whole creation.'"

Mark 16: 15

"Light yourself on fire with passion and people will come from miles to watch you burn."

John Wesley

The newest meme and craze seems to involve committed, sane, dry individuals dumping a bucket of ice water over their head for the purpose of raising funds and/or awareness, i.e. the ALS ice bucket challenge. Perhaps, you have seen these videos and pictures on Facebook or the news. ALS, Amyotrophic lateral sclerosis (ALS), often referred to as "Lou Gehrig's Disease," is a progressive neurodegenerative disease that affects nerve cells in the brain and the spinal cord.¹ The appeal to get involved with either the chilly ice bucket dump or the giving of donations has ranged widely from Bill Gates, Martha Stewart, LeBron James, Lindsay Lohan, Kermit the Frog, Conan O'Brien, to George W. Bush and Patrick Stewart. Friends and families have gotten into the act challenging one another to get wet or donate (or sometimes both!).

The challenge started with a golfer from Florida, Charles Kennedy, whose friend told him if he poured ice on his head that he would donate to the charity of his choice. Kennedy chose ALS, because of a cousin who suffers from ALS. With millions of people being challenged and responding, the response has been astounding. As of August 27th, the ALS Association had received $94 million dollars, in comparison with the $2.7 million raised during the same time last year.² They now have the incredible problem of deciding how best to use the new windfall thoughtfully and appropriately to work towards a cure for ALS – is it treatment or research, is it caring and counseling current sufferers or advocacy?

As they gather with boards and donors to decide, I wonder if there is something that the church can learn from this? I am not suggesting that we necessarily need to challenge each other dump buckets of ice water on our heads. In fact, the church has had a ritual involving commitment and water for thousands of years in the sacrament of Baptism. However, I do wonder about the reality that many of us have no trouble challenging a friend or family member to do something like the ALS ice bucket challenge, but would never share about our faith walk, church, or relationship with God. In the Gospel of Mark, Jesus commissions the disciples to tell all of creation the good news of God's love shown in Jesus. This commission applies to us today as well.

John Wesley, founder of the Methodist movement, took the commission to heart. He was not content with the ways that the Anglican church (the church in which he was ordained) followed those instructions. He was convinced that one had to get outside the church to where people are. When asked how to get people interested in hearing God's word, John Wesley was said to reply: "Light yourself on fire with passion and people will come from miles to watch you burn." While he did not literally light himself on fire, he did preach and teach in pubs, coal mines, open fields, and anywhere people are.

As you fall back into the routine of the programmatic year, consider the commission that Jesus gave, not just disciples of two thousand years ago, but us today as well – Share the gospel! Consider yourselves challenged to spread the good news, share a glimpse of your faith walk with a neighbor who asks you why you are going to church on Sunday morning, instead of Starbucks, and encourage a colleague who is discouraged. I can't wait to hear the stories of how God uses each of us in this challenge!

In God's Love, Pastor Monica

House Blessings

“And now, O Lord GOD, you are God, and your words are true, and you have promised this good thing to your servant; now therefore may it please you to bless the house of your servant, so that it may continue forever before you; for you, O Lord GOD, have spoken, and with your blessing shall the house of your servant be blessed forever.” 2 Samuel 7: 28-29

From biblical times, when someone moved into a new dwelling, words of blessing were offered over the new home. Home blessings involve prayers, scripture reading, and movement throughout the house. If you are interested in a home blessing, please contact Pastor Monica.

CONNECTIONAL CONNECTIONS

As United Methodists, your clergy are called not only to serve the local church, but also the community and throughout the world. John Wesley famously said, “The world is my parish.” So how are your clergy living up to that commitment?

August 10th, 2014 – Pastor Jim offered worship, including Holy Communion, at Jenner’s Pond at 11:00am.

SPECIAL SUNDAY
PLEASE give generously

UNITED METHODIST
WORLD COMMUNION Sunday

World Communion Sunday October 5, 2014

Around the globe, countless gifted and qualified people face financial obstacles that hinder them from preparing for the vocation God has given them, especially youth and young adults. For ethnic students who will be the first generation in their families to attend college, or for those people of color who haven’t historically had access to resources that make higher education possible, the road toward education has often been unwieldy.

What would it look like if the church today imitated Jesus’ affirmation of the full dignity and God-given potential of all women and men—especially those who’ve historically been assigned to the world’s margins? On World Communion Sunday your giving helps to provide scholarships for national and international graduate students whom God has gifted to learn and to serve.

A Prayer for our Teachers

We give thanks to God for teachers, teachers of our congregation and teachers of our children and youth.

God of Love, we thank you for every teacher who notices a child's special gift. Thank you for teachers who are listeners and gentle guides. Thank you for teachers who expect much and love enough to demand more. Thank you for the special teacher each one of us remembers.

God of Mercy, sustain teachers who give everything they have and feel abandoned when society expects too much. Strengthen teachers who assume the blame for so many problems beyond their control. Help exhausted teachers rest.

God of Strength, encourage teachers to care and inspire them to nourish. Motivate teachers to keep on learning for the fun of it and to make learning fun for children. We wonder at teachers who know how to quiet a class of five-year-olds or help fourth grade girls be empathetic. We admire teachers who enjoy middle school writers, or teach physics or math or civics. We cannot even imagine how to help every single student achieve Adequate Yearly Progress. Bless the people who are expected to accomplish these miracles and who know how to comfort children when miracles don't happen. We pray these things in the name of our great teacher, Jesus Christ. Amen

For all of our children, grandchildren, neighbors, and friends, who are returning to school, we pray.

Dear Lord,

We thank you for our children, youth, and adults who seek education. May your way be known to them at home, at school, and in the world around them. Guide them to seek excellence in all they do. Encourage them when classmates are difficult to get along with, when bullies are present, and in the midst of trials and crises. Help them to embody fairness, honesty, compassion, and love in the classroom and on the playground. May this year be filled with learning and growth as all seek you. In the name of the Great Teacher, we pray, Amen.

Labor Day was first celebrated in 1882, and ever since has been recognition of the work of many.

Working God, we see your handiwork everywhere we turn our heads. We thank God for the beauty that surrounds us as well as your people, whom you have created. You have gifted your people, made in your image, with various gifts. Grant us the grace to understand how our lives depend on the courage, industry, honesty, and integrity of all who labor. We are also mindful this day of all who seek fulfilling and supporting work and are unable to find it. May we be compassionate and seek justice for all who labor, their needs, and their families. In the name of the One who brings Justice, Amen.

Financial Report

We give thanks to God for the generosity of the congregation. We are indeed blessed by individual and family commitments to serving God through tithes, gifts, offerings, and donations.

It has been the joy of this congregation to be in ministry and mission, not just during the program year, but throughout the year.

We invite you to review your giving in order to your giving consistent, even as you vacation and travel. The mission and ministry of the church is most vital and vibrant with the support of all of parts of the church contributing.

We look forward to ways in which God blesses our gifts as we serve God together.

Building Maintenance Reserve Fund

We believe that our building is not ours but it is God's. We have the privilege of updating it and maintaining it so that all who enter find it a warm, welcoming and hospitable place to experience the spirit of Christ. Our Building Maintenance Reserve Fund is one way we ensure that we are good stewards of all that God has entrusted to us. Please consider making donations regularly.

You are a Part of the Puzzle

After having moved multiple times, I have learned one of the most frustrating parts of moving is unpacking and putting everything in a new spot. Sometimes in the hustle and bustle of packing, items that should be together were packed in different boxes. Nothing illustrates this better than puzzles. We have some wooden children's puzzles that we have been finding pieces to across multiple different boxes. Until we find all the pieces, the full picture will not be clearly visible. It is remarkably disappointing to put together a puzzle only to discover that you are missing an integral piece of the image.

On September 28th, we will begin our stewardship series together, entitled: You are a Part of the Puzzle. As we explore the discipleship to which God calls us, we will be reminded that each of us are an essential part of the puzzle, that is the body of Christ, here at West Grove UMC. The puzzle is most clearly visible, when we are all using our gifts and talents that God gave us to serve God and God's people. Look in your mailbox towards the end of the month, for more information about this series, opportunities to engage, and your very own piece of the puzzle. Looking forward to piecing the puzzle together with you! Pastor Monica

Welcome to worship as we move from summer into fall. May we be blessed in one another's presence and in the presence of our Savior.

Coffee for adults and Lemonade will be available every Sunday, beginning September 14, before classes and after both worship services compliments of our Hospitality Ministries Team and Volunteer Coffee Makers. Enjoy and have fun while greeting and welcoming friends and guests.

By participating, each household will receive a free 8x10 portrait and a free copy of the directory!

Blessing of the Backpacks

On Sunday, August 24th, we celebrated the Blessing of Backpacks as we prepared for the beginning of school the next day for many of our students and teachers. The stage was filled with children, youth, and teachers with their backpacks, lunch bags, and other bags. As we prayed then, we pray now, may God be known to them as they return to school. May the Jesus fish on their bag remind them of God's presence always with them!

Expanding horizons, one foot at a time

My 8-year-old often likes to wear the pants of one outfit with the shirt of another. "I want these socks today!" he proclaims, holding up a white and a black. When I offer the stray black one I spot on the couch, he insists, "No! I like things different!"

What about us in the world ... in the church? Studies show that people tend to live near others like them. Many congregations consist predominantly of one ethnicity. We gravitate toward people who share our marital status, profession, values and views. Sometimes this is sensible, but often it limits our growth and horizons.

For a tux-clad ring bearer, matching socks are best. But when socks' only purpose is keeping feet warm at school, where my youngster feels "at home" and each child's uniqueness is celebrated, I embrace his nonconformity — and that of his socks. Would that we all appreciated diversity as much!

Youth in Mission in Washington, D.C. Remembered

These reflections were shared in worship on August 10th regarding the Youth Group's mission trip in July to Washington, D.C.

LAUGHTER

Joke: Q: What do you call a cow with no legs?

A: Ground beef!

That right there, all of you laughing, that is where I saw God that week. Almost everywhere we went, there was laughter in some shape or form. You might think, "well why did I have to go all the way to DC to experience this "laughter" when it can be found in all of its glory right here in West Grove?" It's more than the actual act of laughing. It's being able to laugh in front of strangers, in front of people who might judge you, in front of those who are different than you, in front of those you may never see again. That's the great thing about laughter; it doesn't discriminate. Laughter doesn't care about what religion, race, gender, or age you are. I saw this joy all over the city, through us youth, through the old, and through the young that we visited. On the first day, we saw it with making connections at the farmers market and through a sweet lady, Janice, who had us laughing for almost the whole hour we visited her, to then inform us that we had made her day. Later in the week, we visited with the old folk at a day care center for the elderly, and a few of us were sent up with a group of people that had further developed Alzheimer's. This group of people had everyone one in the room laughing, to the point of tears, over the littlest things. I saw here that these people were all different, but all facing the same kind of problems, could laugh at each other and simply be happy. On the whole other end of the spectrum, we visited a day care center for kids towards the end of the week, and got to see these kids happy to be with us and to play, and to laugh at silly things. These kids might have it hard at home, but when they get to come to a place like the day care, they can forget all of it through the simple power of laughter and giggles. There is so much that went on this week that I will never forget, and I am glad I went on this trip. Because I grew closer to these lovely people up here, and I changed because of it. My friends at school used to be able to tell I was coming down the hall just by my laugh, and

I never want that to change so I vow to NEVER stop laughing and I encourage you to do the same. Thank you. Alyssa Lytle

Mr. Get Off The Floor

Nine middle/high school students sat in the E.R. with their young leader on that infamous Thursday afternoon. And I can tell you, I was not too excited about texting my mother later that Mrs. Bushy (Eileen Bushnell) dislocated her elbow roller skating. (Good thing Alyssa did it first!)

The ride over in the big silver van was silent and long, with a spectacular view of car bumpers as we bumbled along in the traffic. But when we first got there, everybody started getting a little more comfortable. Several trips to the snack machine, hyping up on sugar, and we were soon back to our fidgety selves. And then we discovered some more good news...someone had brought a deck of cards with them! Between D.C. and the West Grove Project, our new best friends were named King, Queen, Jack, and the occasional Ace. Glad for a distraction from the odd couples therapy shows on TV, we all hopped down from our seats and organized ourselves in a neat circle. However, before our version of Hunger Games began, a pair of shiny black shoes appeared inches from our circle. Each one of us looked up to see a tall security guard raising his eyebrows at us. He informed us that we weren't allowed to sit on the floor and left as swiftly as he arrived to return to his hospital duties. There we were. Cut off from our only source of entertainment besides the failed attempts at I-Spy and other hand games. But, just when we were about to resign to defeat, who do we see striding back down the hallway, but our good old friend Mr. Get Off The Floor. (Continued on Page 12)

Right then, I became aware. Most of the others in the waiting room were spread across the chairs in pairs or by themselves—most looking down at a phone or a laptop. I wondered what interrupted this mix of people from their regular routines. But then I looked around at my friends—and we looked like a field trip gone wrong.

In a way, we were the outcasts. And this man, labeled A. Hall on his golden name tag, picked us out and chose to befriend us.

For you see, when he returned to our odd bunch, he had some interesting and perplexing things to say. He said, “I am a veteran, and back in the day, I knew a whole bunch of things to do with a deck of cards. Let me show you.”

He then took the first nine cards in the suit of clubs and arranged them in a square. He said, “There is a way, that if you arrange these cards correctly, each row and each column will add up to fifteen. Think of it like a Rubik’s cube. I’ll be back to see how smart ya’ll are.”

By the time we solved that puzzle, and we saw the look of satisfaction on Mr. Hall’s face we were having one of the best times all week! This pattern continued for maybe the next hour as he kept returning with more riddles and jokes for us to solve. I had never had to sit in the waiting room of the E.R. before, but I never thought it would be this stinkin’ fun!

At the beginning of the week I was overwhelmed. We took a tour of the city and were thrown into the mess: homelessness, human trafficking, drugs, runaway teens and hatred.

At our final stop, we spread out across a wide field behind an old-looking church on top of a hill. It was dark except for the bright lights of the city below us. And for one moment, we saw through God’s eyes as we took in the entire city. And to see what God sees—the whole picture—can break you down. I told God that night: Honestly, I’m not sure this is possible. How on earth can we save all this?

But, the biggest lesson I learned from our week in D.C. was this—we are not alone. I believe that God sent an angel dressed as a security guard that Thursday. But Mr. Hall didn’t only comfort us in those couple of hours of waiting; he reminded us that God is good. That He will give us what we need. And that will never change.

Give em’ Hope!

Summer is winding down and school is drawing ominously closer. As the days tick by everyone begins to reminisce on their summer that has just flown by. Many people will have the cliché memories of days on the beach, relaxing in the mountains and an overall carefree summer. But what I have learned about life is that it isn’t the things that are fun, but the things that push you past your breaking point, or even to the point of devastation, that make you better. This is exactly what the CSM-DC (Center for Student Mission) mission project was designed to do. Being emerged into DC was like entering an entirely different planet of its own unlike anything I could ever imagine. Every day we were faced with new and different challenges that would pull our hearts in a different way every single time.

My heart was pulled in a way that - at the time- I could never imagine how it would impact me at St. Thomas Moore rehab centre. As we rose in the elevator to the most intense ward of the building, my anxiety grew with every click of the floor. The doors of the elevator opened to reveal what could only be described as a child-like happiness when we were greeted by the staff and the ice-cream for the patients. However, as we trekked along we met many patients deflated from a tough life. As we worked our way down the halls, we had met many characters full of personality. We had then made our way down to the third floor where we met a young man who seemed like a misfit in this hopeless place. The 21-year-old football star had his life tackled to a stop in a world shaking car crash.

This didn’t mean much to me in the moment as we prayed over this young man, and we made our way back to the van as we had done so many times before.

Only minutes later was my world shaken to the core when we heard that a good friend of mine had lost his sister in a car accident. I was shocked into silence and for the first time that week I Prayed.

This final push had exhausted me physically and mentally but now I could relate to the hurt that had been going on in DC for years. It was time to Give em’ Hope!

Justin Lytle

Give thanks. Give life.

Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ,

In the words of the Apostle Paul, "I appeal to you by the mercies of God" on behalf of a young man in our area who needs a new kidney. Fernando Tena is the son of Maira Tena, our Nursery Attendant and a Children's Morning Out Teacher's Assistant. Might the Spirit lead you to step forward to be an organ donor? It is my hope that you will communicate this urgent request to your family and friends through as many means as possible. This young twenty-year-old is a man of great determination. He is a graduate of Avon Grove High School. Presently, he works, attends a community college, and goes for dialysis three days a week. However, as you know, without a new kidney his health will eventually deteriorate to the point that regardless of his determination, his dreams will not be met. I recently heard of a similar story and appeal in a different area of the country that had a delightful ending. It can happen here. Someone's heart may be touched and this young man will have a new lease on life. The donor must have A-Positive blood type. Any interested person may call the office of the West Grove United Methodist Church at 610-869-9334 and leave necessary contact information. In the Love of Jesus, Mel Leaman

Friday, October 3

9 a.m.-2 p.m.

Saturday, October 4

9 a.m.-Noon

Household goods, adult and children's clothing, toys, and lots of other "treasures" will be for sale. On Saturday, all shoppers may "Fill-a-Bag for $2.00".

How can you help?

Why not weed out unwanted books, gently used clothes, unused kitchen utensils and other household items, box games, puzzles, children's items, the stuff in your basement you've been meaning to go through, and set those "weeds" aside for the church rummage sale? You can bring your donations to church beginning Sunday, September 29 and throughout that week. The church office is open daily from 7:30 a.m. to 4:00 p.m.

We'll be setting up on Thursday, October 2.

So, start cleaning and sorting, and we'll see you at the sale!

Join The Choir

Join the Chancel Choir!
1st rehearsal, Thursday,
September 4 at 6:45 p.m.

Our Chancel Choir is excited to begin a new season and wants to invite you to join them! The first rehearsal is on Thursday, September 4 at 6:45 p.m. in Room 6. We will sing at the September 7, 9:30 a.m. service. This is the last combined service before we transition to the separate contemporary and traditional services.

Below are listed a few of the reasons why it is so great to be a member of the choir!

Advantages of joining the choir:

1. You never have to worry about what to wear.
2. You have excellent seats and are assured a reserved seat for Christmas and Easter.
3. From your advantageous seat, you can smile at, gawk at, ignore and otherwise enjoy the rest of the people in the congregation.
4. The pastor is nearly always looking the other way.
5. You're in a wonderful spot to see new members.
6. The cost for all these benefits? Just one evening a week (Thursdays at 6:45 p.m.).
7. Oh, yes, one more reason to join the choir: You're a leader in the worship experience.

If you have any questions, please contact Betsy Smith, the Choir Director, or any of the choir members would be happy to help you!

The children of the church are invited to be in ministry through the children's choir. The group usually sings four or five times during the school year. Practices are generally held the three Sundays leading up to a performance, in Room 4 at 10:50. The children receive a CD and lyric sheets so they don't need to make every rehearsal. All children four and older are welcome to participate. If your child is three, but you feel he/she is mature enough, that is fine.

The first time the choir will be singing this fall is Oct. 12 and we will rehearse Sept. 21, 28 and Oct. 5. Please contact Joan Leaman with any ques-

PraiseWorks Band

Our PraiseWorks Band leads the 8:30 a.m. contemporary worship service each week. We always welcome new singers and instrumentalists. If you have a heart for worship and are willing to serve God though leading the congregation on Sunday mornings, please contact Betsy Smith for more information.

Bell Choir

THE MEMORY BELLS of the WEST GROVE UNITED METHODIST CHURCH

IT'S TIME FOR HANDBELLS AGAIN! Our first rehearsal will be September 8, when we will start with our annual bell polishing, and quick review of some of our upcoming pieces. Again this year, I have chosen two pieces that should be very easy to pull together, and since we actually have two weeks to prepare, I think we can plan to play in church on September 21. If not, our usual third Sunday schedule will begin on October 19. Come join us for some great fellowship and interesting and fun bell choir music.

AS WE HAVE DONE BEFORE, WE WILL BE PLAYING IN CHURCH THE THIRD SUNDAY OF EACH MONTH. We also usually play during our annual Advent Music Night, Christmas Eve, and Easter Sunday. For the past five years, we have been participating in an annual Community Charity Concert, usually held in mid-April.

WE REHEARSE EVERY MONDAY EVENING AT 6:30 P.M. If there is an occasional Monday when you cannot rehearse or are out of town for any particular Sunday, we ask that you get a substitute for your position from the substitute list that is provided. It is really important to have a full choir for rehearsals and, especially, the Sundays we play.

We know that belonging to a handbell choir is a huge commitment, but the rewards are great. Not only do you have the great fellowship times with your fellow ringers, you are part of enhancing the worship experience for our congregation each month. You don't need to be able to read music, just learn where your note appears on the staff and be able to count to three or four (very occasionally to six) and you'll fit right in! Besides, everybody is there to help everybody else, so we have a good time working together.

We currently have three full octaves of bells and chimes. If you are interested in learning or in being a substitute, please contact me at 484-887-0003 or 610-563-9500. You can also just talk to me at church!

Thank you,

Sandy Deckard

Hand bell Choir Director

A bell symbolizes the call to worship, reflected in the ringing of bells in many churches to announce or open the worship service. A bell also symbolizes the proclamation of the gospel to the world: hence, the ringing of church bells at the close of some services as worshipers depart to spread Christ's good news in their daily lives.

Fantasy Football

at West Grove UMC

START YOUR ENGINES.....oops, wrong sport.... But anyway..... FOOTBALL SEASON IS JUST AROUND THE CORNER. Last year was the fifth season of the West Grove UMC Fantasy Football League. We are now preparing for the Sixth season. No experience is necessary but some knowledge of the NFL teams/players is helpful. No fee to play; the winner's name will be engraved onto the very honorable West Grove UMC Fantasy Football trophy. Congrats to Reed the Swede for last year's victory; let's get that trophy back to the USA where it belongs!

Perhaps you have a friend or neighbor that may benefit from a church community, but you haven't been sure how to invite them; this could be it. Space is limited; teams will be assigned on a first come first serve basis. To join the league please contact Commissioner Tim Bushnell BEFORE Labor Day at 610-998-0916 or agedarborist@gmail.com

Everyone likes a list.

Lists are reassuring. They comfort us. To list is to understand, solve, and even control. Moses brought a list down from the mountain.

There are lists of the gifts of the Spirit. Lists of good fruit and bad. I've compiled a list of some God-given, time-tested truths that define the way to navigate life. May I share it with you?

- When no one is watching, live as if someone is.
- Succeed at home first.
- Pray twice as much as you fret.
- Listen twice as much as you speak.
- God has forgiven you; you'd be wise to do the same.
- Once a week, let a child take you on a walk.
- Only harbor a grudge when God does.
- Never let the important be the victim of the trivial.

Those are just a few ideas on my list. Why don't you compile your own?

Charley Boswell, a former University of Alabama football star with hopes of a professional baseball career, lost his eyesight in World War II. But that did not stop him. SCRIP PROGRAM

Savings for Church through Rebate and Incentive Program

The SCRIP program allows for the congregation of WGUMC to participate in a savings program which benefits our church. By purchasing prepaid cards for use at business establishments you frequent on a weekly basis, WGUMC will receive a percentage from the businesses. Buy your groceries, pay for your gas, buy gift cards for friends and family, etc. It is a great way to budget your money, too! The possibilities are limitless, and every dollar provides another avenue of stewardship for our church.

Our first order was a great success. We look forward to the whole congregation participating in the program.

There is a table in the lobby with Order Forms. Just choose the cards you wish to purchase, attach your check made payable to "WGUMC" with memo "SCRIP" and put them in the bin below the forms. Envelopes for your privacy and convenience are there as well.

This is an on-going program, so you can order at any time! If you have any questions, please see John Boyd or e-mail him at jwb389@zoominternet.net.

Thank you.

Giant Gift Cards

Giant Gift Cards are a simple and easy way to increase your weekly giving without costing you a cent. The cards are sold for face value, but the church purchases the cards at a 5% discount. To participate in this program, just complete the order form located in the lobby, attach your check, and drop it in the offering plate or Carol Whelan's mailbox. I usually have a supply of gift cards on hand and can give them directly to you as soon as I receive a check.

If you spend $300 a month, the church will receive $15. In a year the church will receive $180! If you shop at Giant, please consider purchasing a Giant Gift Card through the church. The cards come in $25, $50, and $100 denominations. Questions?? Contact Carol Whelan at 610-345-0964.
