December 2016

*"Yet in thy dark streets shineth the everlasting Light;
The hopes and fears of all the years are met in thee tonight."
O Little Town of Bethlehem, verse 1 written by Phillip Brooks*

"The light shines in the darkness, and the darkness did not overcome it." John 1:5

December is a month of traditions. Some of us will remember caroling and cookies. Other will recall decorating and Christmas movies. Many will think of gathering with family and friends. Traditions we love and traditions that we long for.

One of my favorite Christmas traditions is Christmas music. Listening to music, contemplating the meaning, and singing along. With so many Advent and Christmas carols and songs, we might be hard pressed to choose our favorite. While I absolutely love the song "I want a Hippopotamus for Christmas", my favorite carol is probably "O Little, Town of Bethlehem." I wonder if you are familiar with the origin of the carol. Rev. Phillip Brooks, pastor of Holy Trinity Episcopal Church in Philadelphia, took a pilgrimage to the Holy Lands in 1865. Upon returning, he was moved to write this hymn for the Sunday School children in his church. The hymn was well loved and increased the attendance of the Sunday School program significantly, by one account from 36 to 1000! (1)

The hymn has had a life beyond the Holy Trinity Church in Philadelphia. It imparted great hope in December 1941 with President Franklin D. Roosevelt and Prime Minister of Great Britain, Winston Churchill. It was only 15 days earlier Pearl Harbor had been attacked and any illusions of peace, isolationism and security with it. Churchill heard the hymn for the first time in the local Methodist church for Christmas morning service with Roosevelt on and found solace and resolve for the work ahead of them. Imagine which "hopes and fears" that they had on their minds that Christmas morning.

This hymn captured multiple truths that I find myself reflecting on each and every Advent and Christmas season. For each of us, the hopes and fears of all the years are brought with us in this holiday season. As we await the birth of Christ, we remember the joy of birth of our children, nieces, and nephews as well as recall the fear of losses and death. As we seek to bring presents to the Christ child, we bring exuberance of our gift giving and the fear of our money that does not stretch as far as we need it to go. As we sing joy to the Lord, we bring our hopes and fears.

My prayer for you this Advent and Christmas season is that you will find the same peace that the people of Holy Trinity Episcopal Church, President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill, and many others have found through God's word spoken in song. May the Word of God touch your heart, inspire your life, and become a part of your traditions of Christmas.

In God's Love,

Pastor Monica

Live Nativity

Saturday, December 17

6:00-8:00 p.m.

Amidst the chaos of baking, shopping, wrapping, and decorating of the holiday season, it is often easy to lose sight of the reason for the Christmas season. Pause from decking the halls and take a moment to rekindle the simple joy of Christ's birth at the Live Nativity from 6-8 p.m. on Saturday December 17.

Upon arrival, visitors will be greeted by members of the church and directed on where to park. From there, visitors will be whisked back to Christ's humble beginnings as they gaze upon the Live Nativity complete with Mary, Joseph, baby Jesus, shepherds, wise men, live animals, and much more!

Set in a field under a starry sky, the Live Nativity is reminiscent of that first glorious Christmas, which will allow visitors to quietly reflect. In addition, visitors will also be provided with a simple bulletin outlining the story of Jesus' birth found in the gospel of Luke.

Pastor Monica, lead pastor, says, "I give thanks to God for each person who experiences Jesus through the Live Nativity. The Live Nativity gives the community the chance to experience what we have been preparing for and will soon be celebrating."

Not only is this a wonderful opportunity for peaceful reflection, but is also a delightful learning experience for children. The Christmas story they hear about comes alive as they see the full Nativity. "Kids really enjoy coming to the Live Nativity," said Tracy McLaughlin, director of the Children's Morning Out program at the church. "There are live sheep, the three wise men, lots of shepherds, and, of course, Mary and Joseph."

After experiencing the miracle of the birth of Christ, warm up inside the church with members of the church, festive music, home baked goodies, and cups of hot chocolate. The welcoming spirit of the church, yummy goodies, and perspective gained in the quiet moments spent at the manger could become some of your favorite holiday memories!

So join us on December 17th to celebrate the coming of Jesus, the birth of our faith!

Stewardship Update

We give thanks to God for the faithfulness of God's people.

Last week, many of you offered your commitment cards for 2017. Some of you will offer them this week and still more in the weeks to come. We invite you to offer those commitment cards in the offering plate as a method for you to make a step of faith in giving as well as for us to plan as good stewards around anticipated giving.

We also encourage you to participate in our anniversary giving. This opportunity to give above and beyond your regular tithe and offering is a challenge to the congregation for 130 giving units to give an additional $25/ month for 12 months. Even our children and youth have gotten into the giving, with youth giving 2.50/ month and children giving .25 cents a month. This giving helps to grow our roots and stabilize our mission and ministry budget.

Many of you have requested an update on our mission and ministry budget. This mission and ministry budget includes all our giving here at the church from our Sunday School program through our roof repairs, our choir music and kitchen supplies, our youth programming and copy machine. For the last three years, at the end of the year, we ran deficits, dipping into our financial reserves. We have sought to turn the tide and strength our financial giving position. With your faithful and generous giving and the commitment stewardship of leadership involved in expenditures, we are on track this year to end the fiscal year in a cash positive position.

Our mission and ministries are at the heart of what we do and who we are. Your giving impacts our local community and around the world. When you give you, you create a safe place for AA groups and scouting. When you give, you support missionaries around the world including the Les Family in Ukraine and our United Methodist missionaries through our apportionments. When you give, you teach children and youth through preschool programs, Sunday School, Children's worship, Youth programing, and Confirmation. When you give, you maintain our building as a home for all these ministries and much more. When you give, you equip music ministries to lead us in worship, here and beyond these walls in service.

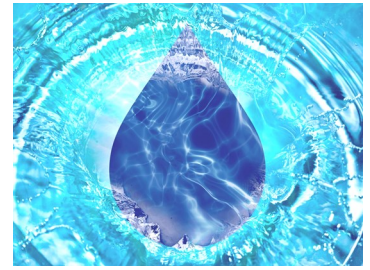

When you give, you strength our roots in gratitude, so that we may all grow in Christ.

HUNGER WALK UPDATE

The Hunger Walk held on October 16, 2016 raised over $15,000 to feed the hungry in Chester County! We are so proud of the team and sponsors from West Grove UMC who raised approximately $3,000.

Baptism

- Through baptism we are joined with the church and with Christians everywhere.
- Baptism is a symbol of new life and a sign of God's love and forgiveness of our sins.
- Persons of any age can be baptized. We baptize by sprinkling, immersion or pouring.
- A person receives the sacrament of baptism only once in his or her life.
- See One of our Pastors or the Church Office for information about Baptism for you or your children.

Planning for the Future

We plan for the future all the time. We hope to have enough milk, eggs, and bread during a snowstorm. We hope to have enough gas to get to our destination. We hope to make good life choices to achieve who God has called us to be. We might want to plan for a future beyond ourselves as we consider wills, estate planning, legacies, and even our own funeral or memorial service.

Sometimes, persons are interested in sharing their wishes and desires for funeral and memorial services with loved ones ahead of time. Other times, information is written in places to be discovered upon death. In other circumstances, families wish to respect the wishes of a loved one, but are unsure as to what best honors their loved one. Prayerfully consider, if you might want to record those thoughts with the church. The church can retain and hold those wishes for you, so that information might be shared and available when appropriate.

If you are interested in recording your hopes for your own services, please be in contact with Donna in the office for a guide or Pastor Monica to discuss your thoughts.

Thank you!

Thank you to Keith Schneider (Master AV guru), Scott Steele (local and church historian), Vinny Rucinski (production

CALENDAR

Donate Calendars!

Missions ConneXion is also asking for donations of calendars that can be used by inmates or homeless folks trying to get back on their feet. These are small and should be able to fit in a small bag and be designed so that appointments can be added and a section with an address book. The dollar store carries perfect ones. These will be added to the next set of emergency backpacks with extras going to shelters.

CMO PRESCHOOL

Children's Morning Out Program

They will be busy preparing for Christmas and the joy and excitement in their faces is always wonderful to see as they learn all about this special day. Eastern PA to help launch UMC prayer vigil in 2017

By John W. Coleman

The Eastern PA Conference will help lead off a more than yearlong United Methodist prayer vigil in 2017 by being the second conference to gather daily, even hourly in many places for a full week of prayer together. Our urgent cause for prayer could be the very future of the denomination. January 8-14, 2017, is Eastern PA's week to participate in the Council of Bishops' Praying Our Way Forward Initiative. We are asked to pray for "the church's effectiveness in fulfilling our mission of making disciples and for the outcome of the work of the Commission on a Way Forward."

The council organized that global commission of lay and clergy church members to examine fully the church's laws and teachings on homosexuality and determine whether to recommend requested changes to General Conference. The denomination's unity hangs in the balance, as some groups anticipate division along ideological lines, depending on what the Council of Bishops recommends and General Conference decides. The council has unofficially asked the General Conference business manager to explore venues for a special called session in early 2019, a year ahead of the next scheduled General Conference in May 2020. A formal request for a called session is expected in 2017, after the special commission begins its work.

The 32-member Commission on a Way Forward will likely commence its difficult deliberations in January, hoping to resolve a decades-long impasse that prompted protest demonstrations and tense moments at the 2016 General Conference in May.

The bishops launched the multi-phase Praying Our Way Forward Initiative in October. For the first phrase, the council's 84 bishops have each been praying 15 minutes a day for the commission. "That's 21 hours of prayer a day for the work of the Commission on a Way Forward," said Birmingham Area Bishop Debra Wallace-Padgett, who co-chairs the prayer effort along with retired Bishop Al Gwinn. The second phase begins with rotating conference-wide prayer vigils in January, as each conference commits to come together in prayer, and fasting for some, during a designated week. The effort will continue into 2018.

Prior to our Jan. 8-14 week, members of Eastern PA churches can register their prayer days and times online or manually using a downloadable prayer vigil form at SignUpGenius. And in conjunction with the prayer vigil, Bishop Peggy Johnson will sponsor a conference-wide prayer service on Wednesday, Jan. 10, at 7 PM, hosted by Lima UMC. All are invited and encouraged to attend.

Bishop Bruce Ough, Council of Bishops President, stressed "We need to begin to prepare the church for whatever might come out of the commission." The council has also encouraged its member bishops to initiate conversations among clergy and laity within their annual and central conferences that would parallel the work of the Commission on a Way Forward. Each bishop may freely structure the process and timeline for dialogue according to the needs of their area, while using suggested questions as a starting point.

Safe Sanctuaries

As many of you know, our church participates in a program called "Safe Sanctuaries." It is an effort to keep children, youth and vulnerable adults safe from abuse when they are engaged in programs in our church. If you are a volunteer who works with one of those groups, the policy requires clearances which are to be updated every three years. Many groups and employers require the same clearances, so copies are acceptable. Clearances can be obtained online. Criminal Background Checks can be done at epatch.state.pa.us and Child Abuse Clearances can be obtained at www.compass.state.pa.us/CWIS. There is a $10 fee for each. The applications can also be filled out on paper and mailed. A money order must be used to pay the fee. If you are unsure if your clearances are up to date, or if you would like a paper application and help filing, see Fran Miller. Fran's email address is jmille8698@verizon.net and phone number is 610-869-8935.

Dear Friends,

Today, more than ever, our churches need to be places where people can come together and find space for respectful dialogue with one another. Our district will be offering intentional opportunities throughout 2017 for clergy and laity to engage these vital conversations with one another. Please mark your calendars now for a Southeast District Night of Dialogue on Jan. 16, 2017 (Martin Luther King Day) from 7-9 p.m. at Church of the Open Door in Kennett Square. The evening will be an opportunity to grow in relationship with clergy and laity throughout the district. We will take time to hear each other's stories and learn from one another. We will also discern ways that we can help our communities have vital conversations with one another and how to build bridges in our communities. DS Taylor-Storm will lead the devotion for the evening; Rev. Lydia Munoz will be our lead facilitator for the dialogue. These conversations are vital to our ongoing journey to become the beloved community that God intends for us. The resources we use during the evening will be able to be reproduced for use in each local church.

A registration link will be forthcoming. Please save the date. May God bless the work of your hands this day.

Together in Ministry,
Dawn Taylor-Storm, District Superintendent

SERVICE OF DEDICATION

On November 13th, our Community Church at Jenner's Pond dedicated the generous gifts of hymnals for that worshipping congregation.

God is worshipped in different and creative ways such as story, drama, and art. Singing has always been an important thread running through the fabric of the worship of God. We thank you, Lord God, for the long tradition of worshipping in song.

We dedicate these hymn books to your praise and worship. May our singing bring glory to your name, Lord God; in the name of Christ. Amen.

We thank Martha Pink & Dr. Bob and Ellen Hayes for their generous gift of these hymnals. They are donated in memory of Martha Pink's husband, John and in memory of the The Hayes' sons, Bob and Jim.

Prayer Ministry

Let us be in prayer for you. When you request prayer by contacting the church, you will hear three questions:

- Would you like this on the prayer chain?
- Would you like your name in the bulletin for prayer?
- Would you like your prayer need shared at gathered prayer in worship?

We are asking these questions to clarify how we can best share your joy or need. Thanks be to God for all who pray!

A Prayer

Because in this season we read the stories which tell us that you have done it before; because we - in different ways - still deal with hope and disappointment, faith and fear,

GOD, SEND US AN ANGEL, OR GIVE US A DREAM

When the world wearies us, when we seem to walk on a treadmill but really need to dance on a trampoline,

GOD, SEND US AN ANGEL, OR GIVE US A DREAM

When life seems to throw at us the opposite of what we want; when we find ourselves asking how will I cope? How will they manage?

GOD, SEND US AN ANGEL, OR GIVE US A DREAM

When we cannot see beyond the hurdles in our way; and the past seems a safer place than the future

GOD, SEND US AN ANGEL, OR GIVE US A DREAM.

Even as it jolts us, pushes us in a direction we've never travelled before, opens us up to unusual thoughts and strange adventures,

GOD, SEND US AN ANGEL, OR GIVE US A DREAM

Then, with Elizabeth and Zechariah and Joseph and Mary, and shepherds in the fields who all had to deal with the unexpected, we will bless you, God, for all your messages and all your messengers of good and different news.

Financial Leadership Academy Completion

Dear Church Leaders,

Congratulations, your pastor, The Reverend Monica Guepet, recently completed participation in the 2-year Financial Leadership Academy sponsored by the Mid Atlantic United Methodist Foundation. We want to thank you for providing time and support for your pastor to participate with nearly 60 others in this process. As a result of the Academy, your pastor is now a certified financial leader who is better equipped to provide the kinds of leadership that will create a climate of generosity and generate more resources for mission and ministry.

We also want to encourage you to work with your pastor to implement and grow some of the financial procedures and stewardship strategies learned through participation in the Academy.

God be with you in your ministry.

In Christ,

Seminar plants vision of 'Church as a Movement'

"Kingdom Building," and definitely not "Church Building," was the theme of Hopewell UMC's 13th annual Planting Seeds for Ministry Growth seminar, Oct. 22. Church visionary Reggie McNeal taught a packed sanctuary that the Kingdom is "life as God intended it," and that the Church should offer not a building but "a relationship with Christ" to help people achieve that life. Like an airport, it should be not a destination but a hub, from where disciples are sent out to save the city and change the world. "God is calling us to a new chapter" in our story, said McNeal in a presentation full of humor and honesty. About 225 attendees registered for the Downingtown church's annual leadership training event. Assuring them of his Georgia Baptist upbringing and generations of pastors in his family, McNeal explained, "I come to you from deep in the belly of the beast. I'm not saying Church as an institution has no relevance or value, but I want to emphasize Church as a movement."

The popular author and keynote speaker cited the growing numbers of people, now 1 in 5, who profess no interest in any religion, while many others aren't willing to be merely "congregationalized" as members. Young millennials especially are looking for places that are authentically nurturing and outreaching. "To have any hope of connecting with them," McNeal warned, "we're going to need a completely different posture than 'come and get it.'"

For more information, ask Pastor Monica or Cindy Haley, who both attended.

SCRIP Scripts for December

December Tip: Dashing through the store, jingle bells in hand, oh I wish I had SCRIP cards to manage Christmas spend!

Christmas is a very joyous and giving season. However, we can all agree it can be a very hectic time, but with a little preplanning you can keep within your budget and enjoy the holidays without added financial stress.

Plan for selecting gift cards to give as gifts and have a few on hand for last minute surprises. (No malls, no lines, just smiles) Christmas is a time for giving so consider picking up a few gift cards and tuck them into the gifts for families on our giving tree. Gift a family in need with a card for giant, acme, etc for help in preparing meals and make their holiday a little brighter.

Pick up a Giant, Acme card for meal planning and preparation. Start thinking for future ham dinners and purchase a Honey Baked Ham card either as a gift or to use for family gatherings. Perhaps a Marshall, Target, Kohls, or Walmart card can be planned out in increments of $10 or $25 to purchase decorations, pick up small gifts, or additional paper products. By having cards on hand, taking full advantage of sales, and coupon stacking you can maximize your savings, maintain your budget, and have a financial stress-free holiday.

Merry Christmas from The Trustees

Have You Remembered To Include West Grove UMC In Your Will?

An important consideration for those of us who have been generous to our church is, "How can I continue to support its ministry even after my death?" Making a provision to West Grove UMC in your estate planning is as simple as a couple of lines into your will, but don't wait to make those plans. For assistance with this, talk with your financial planner or call the church office. More elaborate gift bequests can be brokered through the church professionals at the Mid-Atlantic Foundation. Consider leaving a tithe (10%) of your estate to West Grove UMC or even a flat gift amount! Thank you.

An Inconvenient Christmas

Soon we will be singing Advent hymns in our churches and wondering where this passing year has gone. December 25th falls on a Sunday this year, and I am already hearing questions about having worship services on Christmas Day. I've fielded such comments as: "It is so inconvenient when Christmas is on a Sunday." "No one comes, and people are tired from the Christmas Eve services the night before." I have been asked if it would be alright to cancel church services on Christmas Day and perhaps even on New Year's Day a week later, since the same kind of holiday issues exist. It is true that attendance is typically low on a Christmas Sunday. Some churches have opted to have one short service with coffee and cinnamon rolls. And I've heard of at least one church inviting people to attend services in their pajamas. All of this says that Christmas, when it falls on a Sunday, is inconvenient to many, and we are trying to find ways to make it work for us. Family gatherings and a million other holiday festivities compete with worship on that day. But I call on all of our churches to persevere and continue to hold services in some fashion on Sunday, December 25. It is, after all, the celebration of Christ's birth. The truth is, Christmas, the real Christmas, has never been convenient. The birth of Christ came amid a time of political unrest.

The circumstances of Jesus' birth were certainly less than convenient. This Galilean couple made a hundred-mile trek across rough, unpaved roads, as the new mother-to-be rode perched on a donkey in her third trimester of pregnancy. The birth event itself ends up happening in a rustic stable for animals, not exactly the cleanest or most comfortable environment. A murderous, unbalanced king seeks the child's life and kills a swath of innocent babies in his foiled attempt at eliminating the competition. There was nothing about the realities of this Jesus' birth that was glamorous or even convenient. A fancy Hallmark card depicting the nativity with golden insert envelopes simply doesn't tell the real story. Christmas is still inconvenient, and it always will be. The coming of Christ ushered in a whole new paradigm whose purpose was to turn the world upside down, and not just a little. Mother Mary, in the "Magnificat" describes the plan: "He (God) has shown strength with his arm; he has scattered the proud in the thoughts of their hearts; he has brought down the mighty from their thrones and exalted those of humble estate; he has filled the hungry with good things and the rich he has sent away empty." (Luke 1:51-53) Simeon, the aged prophet in the temple, said similar things about Jesus at the time of his dedication: "Behold, this child is appointed for the fall and rising of many in Israel, and for a sign that is opposed (and a sword will pierce through your own soul also) so that thoughts from many hearts may be revealed." (Luke 2:34-35).

The best way to celebrate this newborn king is not just to show up for church services on Christmas Sunday. We should feel compelled—indeed, honored—to do the inconvenient and difficult work of justice ministries: sharing our wealth with those who are hungry for bread and for equality; speaking out when we see inequities and sharing power with people who usually don't have a place around the table. This is year-round ministry-in-action that celebrates the birth and life of Christ every day! I challenge you to call your churches to a time of prayer and study during Advent. At my Days on the Districts meetings with clergy this fall I gave to everyone copies of a 40-Day Prayer Challenge book, titled Draw the Circle, by the Rev. Mark Batterson. You and your congregation could read this book, or one like it, as you prepare together for the celebration of Christ's birth. Through prayer and searching the scriptures the Lord will surely lay on your hearts what you need to be doing to "let justice roll down like water and righteousness as a mighty stream." (Amos 5:24) And what the Lord asks you to do won't likely be convenient or easy; but the real work of Christmas means walking the difficult, dusty roads that Jesus walked, while bearing a cross on your shoulder.

New Redistricting of Churches Completed

By John W. Coleman

The Eastern PA Conference Cabinet has completed arrangements of its 415 member churches into four new districts—East, North, South and West—to take effect July 1, 2017. The reduction from six to four districts was a necessary cost-savings decision made by the Annual Conference at its adjourned session Oct. 1. While the East District, which retains its current name, will now have 92 churches, the other three, newly named districts will each have more than a hundred.

The number of churches in each district are:

East District: 92 churches North District: 113 South District: 104 West District: 105

To ensure full inclusiveness, the Cabinet intends for each district to see itself as wholly new and not merely expanded and renamed with the addition of new churches. District meetings, decisions, leadership roles and program initiatives will be aimed to reflect that “all things new” understanding. “We are launching into a new way of living that will challenge us to resource churches more locally through the ministries of our mission connexions,” said Bishop Peggy Johnson. She credited the helpful feedback she received to her presentations of the redistricting plan during district town hall meetings last April. “It is my hope that the leadership of the mission connexions can fill in the gaps so that District Superintendents are freed up to perform their role as Missional Strategists.

“Finances are clearly driving most of this decision,” said the bishop. “But with every challenge there is an opportunity to learn new ways of doing ministry and keeping the goal of making disciples of Christ for the transformation of the world always before us.” The Cabinet studied carefully the geographical, cultural and theological realities of churches across the conference, said Johnson. “Great care was given to be sure not to put all African American churches in one district and to have a mix of multicultural churches in each district,” she explained.

Various aspects of the new district transitions are being planned and worked out now. That includes: the work of District Resource Assistants; reconfiguration of district committees on Ordained Ministry; nominations for district leadership positions; UMW and UMM leadership positions, etc. The current six districts will likely celebrate their life and ministry together at Tools for Ministry gatherings and district conferences next spring. But the new quartet of districts will then celebrate their new configurations during lay and clergy gatherings with the bishop next fall.

LCH to Open Dental Center in Southern Chester County in December

The U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) granted Kennett Square's La Comunidad Hispana (LCH) a $350,000 award to open a new dental center to serve southern Chester County.

This fall, low-income residents of southern Chester County will now have access to dental care—a service that is a crucial need in this part of the county. Many uninsured clients, who must travel to Coatesville or West Chester to access the nearest available services, simply go without.

"Nearly half of our clients have not seen a dentist in a year or more," said LCH Medical Director Cindy Schmeltz, DNP, FNP-C, CRNP. "We know that oral care is an essential component of overall health. We see so many dental problems during patient visits, and now we will be able to get them the care they need right in their own backyard." Based on the 2015 Southeastern Pennsylvania Household Health Survey, there are 17,000 adults in southern Chester County who need a dental visit. Additionally, 15 percent of children, or 3,300, were not examined by a dentist within the past year.

LCH completed a needs assessment last fall and began the application for federal funding. Thanks to the funding award, the 43-year-old Federally Qualified Health Center will expand into dental care for the community no later than December 2016. The LCH Dental Center will be located on McFarlan Road in Kennett Square in space that will be leased from Dr. Robert Krauss, an endodontist with over 30 years of experience in southern Chester County.

Services will be offered to community members using the same model as LCH's existing services – Person-Centered Services. LCH will accept Medicaid, Medicare, CHIP, and private insurance. Uninsured patients will pay for services received on a sliding scale, and no patient will be turned away for inability to pay. Four full-time employees will staff the site: one dentist, one dental hygienist, and two dental assistants. LCH is now interviewing for these positions.

LCH has served southern Chester County for more than 40 years as a multi-service, bilingual nonprofit that changes lives through Person-Centered Care: health care, social assistance, and education and workforce development.

Mission Work in Africa Grows

Churches in the Eastern PA Conference are supporting missionaries and vital mission efforts in the Democratic Republic of Congo (DRC) and Tanzania, spanning a vast distance that makes occasional visits and newsletters all the more essential. Those visits and communications help strengthen relationships and inspire support.

The Rev. Jonathan and Donna Baker, our Congo Partnership missionaries working in the Central Congo Area, visited the Southeast District here twice in the past four months. In October they presented a celebrative report to clergy during the Bishop's Day on the District. And in June they addressed the full District Conference. The district raised funds in 2014-2015 to build a pediatric clinic in the region of Mpasa, near Kinshasha. In 2015-2016 it raised more, along with partners, to help furnish it with equipment. Now in Phase III, known as Light4Life, district members are raising funds to help provide solar power and a solar-powered blood bank for the medical center.

The new Pediatric Medical Building's ground-breaking occurred Sept. 19. "This was a celebration of a dream for Mpasa for many years and is a culmination of so much prayer, preparation, and sacrificial giving by many people both in Congo and among our U.S. Partner Conferences," wrote the Bakers on the Partnership's Facebook page. The United Methodist Church built a medical clinic and nutrition center in Mpasa in the late 1990s to serve a large migration of refugees escaping civil war, drought, and other conflicts. When the new pediatric clinic is finished, medical staff will be able to improve maternal care and treat children separately from adults, said Donna Baker, a retired nurse.

Meanwhile, generous donations have provided much-needed equipment, including a generator, an infant incubator for newborns, a surgical bed and operating lights. An ultra-sound machine is next among the many critical needs that still exist. "You are making a life-saving difference for Christ in Central Congo," Jonathan Baker told the district in October. "You are there with us through your prayers and support." You can also support the Bakers individually as missionaries through the Advance: Donna L. Baker, Advance #3022054; Jonathan E. Baker, Advance #3022050.
